

Hartford Seminary
SC-523: Torah
Fall 2020
Deena Grant, Ph.D. dgrant@hartsem.edu

Course Description:

This course will examine the content and theology expressed in the Hebrew Bible. We analyze scripture using historical-critical methodologies that consider the biblical material in light of its ancient Near Eastern context. We also investigate how the Hebrew Bible has been interpreted by different faith communities.

Course Objectives:

In this course students will:

1. Attain an in-depth knowledge of the content and critical questions involved in studying the Pentateuch.
2. Utilize a variety of methods to analyze and interpret the Pentateuch
3. Develop an awareness of the multiple theological perspectives operative in the sources of the Pentateuch.
4. Examine the Pentateuch in its immediate literary context, and in light of its socio-historical context to the extent that this can be determined.
5. Articulate how Jewish interpretation of the Torah has generated distinct religious beliefs and spiritual practices.

Learning Outcomes:

1. To demonstrate foundational and critical knowledge of one's own religion (MARS # 1)
2. To demonstrate knowledge of the practices of one's own religious tradition and the capacity to appreciate the practices of other religious traditions (MARS #3)
3. To demonstrate the knowledge, capacities, and willingness to respectfully engage the religious pluralism of contemporary American society through exposure to the teachings of other faiths and those who practice those faiths (DMIN # 3)

Required Texts & Readings:

1. An English translation of the Hebrew Bible
For example: The New Oxford Annotated Bible. New Revised Standard Version. ISBN: 978-0195284850.
2. Reading the Old Testament. An Introduction by Lawrence Boadt. Revised and Updated by Richard Clifford and Daniel Harrington. ISBN-13: 978-0809147809; ISBN-10: 0809147807

3. Materials on Canvas

Course Content, Requirements and Assessment:

There is one module for each week of the course. The module will appear the Friday before each instructional week begins and will include the week's Content Material and Assignments.

Weekly Content Material (inclusive of some/all of the following): Provided Friday by 11:59pm.

1. A page summarizing the week's content and assignments
2. A short lecture
3. A reading assignment from the book Reading the Old Testament by Lawrence Boadt
4. Reading assignment from the Hebrew Bible
5. Provided Reading and/or Viewing

Weekly Assignments:

1. Weekly Raising Question and/or Comment (25%) approximately 2 paragraphs Due Tuesday by 11:59pm

Students will post a significant question, comment or analysis which responds to a question/comment posed by the professor. Questions and Comments should reflect knowledge of the week's course material. The relevant sources will be identified by the professor and should be cited by the student.

2. Weekly Responding to Questions and/or Comments (25%) approximately 1-2 paragraphs Due Thursday by 11:59pm

Students will substantively engage with original posts (Raising Questions and Comments) of two different classmates. Responses should reflect knowledge of the week's course material.

Creating original discussion posts and responding robustly to one another is an important form of "attendance" for this course. Substantive engagement may involve responding to those who comment on one's original post, as well as posting more than one comment on an original post*

3. Reaction Paper (50%) approximately 1.5 pages in length Due Thursday by 11:59pm

The professor will pose one or more questions. Students are required to submit to me a paper responding to one of these questions. The paper should demonstrate that students are thinking carefully about the readings and materials covered.

Late Assignments:

Late assignments will be reduced by 1/2 letter grade. Extensions will be given for illnesses or family emergencies only in consultation with the instructor.

Plagiarism and Academic Integrity:

Academic honesty and integrity are expected of all students. Plagiarism exists when: a) the work submitted was done, in whole or in part, by anyone other than the one submitting the work, b) parts of the work, whether direct quotations, ideas, or data, are taken from another source without acknowledgement, c) the whole work is copied from another source [especially a web based source], or d) significant portions of one's own previous work used in another course. See "Plagiarism" at <http://www.hartsem.edu/current-students/policies/>.

Inclusive Language:

Hartford Seminary is committed to a policy of inclusion in its academic life and mission. All members of the community are expected to communicate in language that reflects the equality of genders, openness to diverse cultural and theological perspectives, and sensitivity to one another's images of God.
